CONTINUATION OF COMPLAINT:*Ricardo GONZALEZ-Navarez*PROBABLE CAUSE STATEMENT

I declare under the penalty of perjury that the following statement is true and correct:

On May 30, 2008, Border Patrol Agent C. Mehmel was assigned to the Interstate 8 (I-8) checkpoint near Pine Valley, California. The I-8 checkpoint is located approximately fourteen miles north and nine miles east of the Tecate, California Port of Entry. The checkpoint was fully operational, all warning lights and signs were in place.

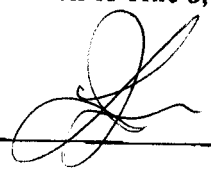

At approximately 7:00 a.m., a tan Toyota pickup truck approached the primary inspection area. The driver, later identified as the defendant Ricardo GONZALEZ-Navarez, was looking down, not making eye contact and moving side to side in his seat as though he was nervous. Agent Mehmel questioned the defendant concerning his citizenship. The defendant stated he was a United States Citizen. The passenger was then questioned and admitted to being having entered the United States illegally. Both the passenger and the defendant were placed under arrest and taken to the I-8 Processing facility and further record checks were conducted on the defendant, who still claimed that he was a United States Citizen. Through records checks it was confirmed that the defendant was a citizen and national of Mexico.

Routine record checks of the defendant revealed a criminal and immigration history. The defendant's record was determined by a comparison of his criminal record and the defendant's current fingerprint card. Official immigration records of the Department of Homeland Security revealed the defendant was previously deported to Mexico on September 22, 2006 through San Ysidro, California. These same records show that the defendant has not applied for permission from the Attorney General of the United States or his designated successor, the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security, to return to the United States after being removed.

Executed on May 31, 2008 at 9:00 a.m.
